VTC Experience:

This We'll Defend

I felt Veterans Treatment Court was fantastic. It is an unbelievable program that anyone with issues or needs should go through. My situation of how I became involved in Veterans Court was a bit different than most, but it did not matter. I received good coaching, amazing attorney services, and was given opportunities to give back to the community.

Now, I am a proud Mentor for the program and one of my Mentee Veterans is graduating at the next Veterans Court Graduation. Being a Mentor who has gone through the program has given me the experience needed to further help my fellow Veterans succeed in the program.

Sincerely,

A Proud Vet Court Graduate

Spotlight On: Stand Down

The purpose of a Stand Down is to provide assistance and services to homeless and at-risk Veterans. The first stateside Stand Down was organized by the Veterans Village of San Diego in 1988 and was modeled after Stand Downs held during the Vietnam War. According to the National Coalition for Homeless Veterans, these wartime Stand Downs enabled combat troops “to take care of personal hygiene, get clean uniforms, enjoy warm meals, receive medical and dental care, mail and receive letters, and enjoy the camaraderie of friends in a safe environment.” It is in this same spirit that all Stand Downs across the nation are held every year.

This Month in U.S. Military History

The Marine Corps Turns 241!

In 1775, the Continental Congress called for the formation of two battalions of Marines “to fight for independence at sea and on shore” during the Revolutionary War.

Officially approved on November 10, 1775, the Continental Marines are formed. Although they were dismantled after the Revolutionary War was won—the Continental Marines were reestablished and renamed the United States Marine Corps by Congress on July 11, 1798. Since then, the USMC has grown dramatically, making them into the fully self-sustained armed force they are today, with over 200,000 Marines in its rank capable of deployment by land, sea, or air.

The Battle of Iwo Jima

“Japanese soldiers turned the volcanic island into a trap, fighting from a maze of tunnels and steel bunkers beneath Mt. Suribachi. The Battle of Iwo Jima lasted 36 days and resulted in heavy casualties before the Marines secured the island.

“Four days into the battle, a Marine patrol reached the summit of Mt. Suribachi and raised the American Flag to encourage troops below. Later on, a team of Marines was sent with a larger, more visible flag. This time, the flag raising was captured by photographer Joe Rosenthal. Within days, the photo of the moment that embodied the Marines' struggle and victory became front-page news.”

A part of the Marine uniform since 1868, the Eagle, Globe, and Anchor represents three Marine commitments. The Eagle represents the proud nation they defend, the Globe represents their presence across the world, and the Anchor represents their naval heritage and ability to access any coastline around the world.

Fun Fact: Both Chuck Norris and Gary Sinise (aka Lt. Dan from Forrest Gump) are Honorary Marines.

Judge K's Corner

“Initiating change can be difficult, but it’s through change that we learn more about ourselves and what we are truly capable of.”
